

2020 Matching Gift Challenge

Thank you for your support

So many young people today lack good examples, whether by lack of guidance from family or by spending time around toxic friends. But here at Walking Tall, our goal is to provide mentors who can show what it means to follow Christ. This is taught through words, but more importantly, it is shown through actions. We hope to give young men an example that they can relate to and follow, just as we follow Christ.
