Henry and his family were invited to a pancake breakfast by his friend Chris back in April, 2019. Some of his friends were serving them, sharing, and asking them to come and check out the Walking Tall program benefiting from this morning's proceeds. After listening to what it was about, His dad said, "Let's do this." So not only did Henry join up, but his brothers also did, and his father became a mentor in the Walking Tall program. Henry says, "One of my favorite things is the food at WT; it's delicious. Also, I like talking to my friends during dinner."

Shy Henry said, "I'm grateful for faith, family and WT; the mentors coming alongside me, shaking my hand, have helped me open up."

Henry is currently working with the construction crew, preparing to build a shed.

Also, Henry says, "I like to see projects I've worked on completed."

I often hear the mentors around here say, "I get as much as I give back, if not more." The mentors are encouraged by these young men stepping up, willing to learn new hands-on skills and become Godly men for our future.

Nehemiah ensured the people understood that God was behind his wall-building idea. Before our construction starts and walls go up, we need the faith that God will give us the ability and resources to carry out our building plans. As mentors show this example, working alongside young men, we know God always promotes spiritual wall-building!

I also told them about the gracious hand of my God on me and what the king had said to me. They replied, "Let us start rebuilding." So they began this good work.

Nehemiah 2:18
