AUTOMOTIVE WOODWORKING FABRICATING & WELDING SMALL ENGINE COMPUTER DESIGN CONSTRUCTION AND MORE

My life has always been a bumpy road. I got interested in welding in high school; previously, I only knew what welding was. I was an atheist kid, but now I understand the Lord and look upon Him to vent to or whatever my needs are. I've always had a bad past and made stupid decisions, but the Lord and welding changed my life. I may not have had the best parents or family members, but I've had people in my life to support and guide me in the right direction, like Hearts with a Mission (HWAM) and Walking Tall (WT). Mentor Jack at WT is funny and very wise, and I've learned a lot there, like how to cope with people in a respectful environment, give a firm handshake, and look someone in the eye. I never learned any of these skills from my parents because I've had bad parents who have used drugs for many years.

Also, my mom is with a woman who is not good. They argue 24-7, and I don't know who my dad is. That is another reason I look up to Walking Tall. My mom has accused my dad of things I don't know anything about, but I still want to know who my dad is. My peers at WT, like Camden, are great and like what I do. The first day I walked in, he shook my hand and later said, "You're one of the good welders." They also have a great family there, and they will always be a family to me. They live, love, and laugh as a family. I plan to continue going there and support Walking Tall and HWAM. Walking Tall has opened my eyes to what a man can and should do. ~Young Man

For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord,
"plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."
Jeremiah 29:11

Thank you for your Prayers and Support

*If you haven't ever supported Walking Tall, please consider a one time donation or regular monthly donation to support and continue offering many skills to these young men. Thank you so much!
