Logan started coming to WT in 2017 in the 8th grade. Tom talked to his dad one day at church and shared what WT was about. Logan was impressed with the many opportunities to learn from the mentors who show great compassion and encouragement. He started learning about wood and tools in the woodshop and then went on to the metal fabrication shop. Tom encouraged Logan to come on a different night and work on the bus. After a few years working on the bus, Logan is enjoying his increased knowledge of wiring and sheet-metal skills. When he is here, he is looked up to by the younger boys. Balancing work and going to RCC these days makes it difficult for him to come every week, but he comes as often as possible. Remembering the beginning skills (firm handshake, direct eye contact, and clear speaking) gave him more confidence at his first job interview. Being motivated and driven keeps him at a high standard to get good grades, and he also achieved the high honor of earning his Eagle Scout rank a couple of years ago. Logan enjoys cars, and when he first came to WT, he didn't have any knowledge about the automotive industry. He has learned many practical skills now, especially in the automotive field.

Logan says, "I want to work on my faith more; coming to Walking Tall is my only chance to hear Scripture because of my work schedule lately. WT helps keep me grounded. It reminds me to keep a standard for myself, about how I approach people and act around friends. I'm not perfect, but this group encourages me to reflect on my speech and actions." Logan plans to finish RCC, attend a university, and get his degree.

We hope these young men will learn all they can from the mentors and someday have the opportunity to make a difference in someone else's life.

But those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength.
They will soar on wings like eagles;
they will run and not grow weary,
they will walk and not be faint.
Isaiah 40:31
