Tony and Pam have been married for 44 years and enjoy serving together in various ministries. They are passionate about working with horses and livestock, which keeps them busy. Three years ago, they came across an advertisement for the Walking Tall big yard sale and decided to explore it. Tony knew Tom, and after taking a campus tour, he realized that the program was right for him. Pam shared with Judy how their paths had crossed many times before, but they had never met. Judy welcomed Pam's assistance in the kitchen. Tony and Pam believed that the Holy Spirit was leading them to Walking Tall, and they began attending the Wednesday night program. They believe that the program is all about instilling knowledge into the lives of young men and then seeing them flourish and take that knowledge with them wherever they go. Pam finds joy in helping and serving the food as well. They say a home revolves around a kitchen, which holds true here as people come and go. The guys often drop in, offering help and brightening up the place with their smiles while enjoying the aroma of delicious food. It's fun to listen to Judy, Pam says, because it's a ministry that goes on in there as well. Tony emphasizes the importance of fellowship and dining together as a family. He spends most of his time working on the bus, and he enjoys being thrown under the bus often. He can relate to Dan because they have a lot of experience in fleet management. In addition, Tony enjoys working on small engines with Bruce and Dave and says it's a hoot. He also loves playing ping-pong with the guys during his free time. Tony notes how other mentors interact with the young men and tries to learn from them. According to Tony, he gets to know the guys better during extracurricular activities like the SEMA automotive trip and the fishing trip.

Both Tony and Pam love the coin and what it stands for. They feel a part of the Walking Tall family, especially when Tom says, "We've got your back." They see that more than just in words around Walking Tall.

As each has received a gift, use it to serve one another, as good stewards of God's varied grace.

1 Peter 4:10
