Superpower of the Heart

Brennan is a 20-year-old who has been attending Walking Tall (WT) for five years. He loves spending time in the welding department and is always warm and welcoming towards new and struggling young men. Brennan's hobbies include playing table games and writing. He believes that writing could be his potential career and enjoys creating stories about the games played on the table. Brennan is also working on his novels and hopes to venture into comic book art within the year. He plans to finish his associate degree, have something published in the next couple of years and possibly work in the field of writing.

The period of the Covid-19 pandemic remains fresh in Brennan's mind. It was a challenging time for him and his family, as he spent long hours in isolation and silence. Despite receiving Walking Tall weekly home visits, he was overjoyed when WT resumed on campus. Brennan is grateful for his supportive family, who encourages him to pursue his interests and leave the house. He struggles with time management and wishes to improve in this area. Brennan has recently been working in metal fabricating and machining. He expressed his gratitude by saying, "I consider myself incredibly fortunate to have the opportunity to be here at Walking Tall. This place holds a special place in my heart, and I wouldn't trade any time spent here for anything else. In fact, I wish I could spend more time here." Brennan

My heart overflows with a pleasing theme;
I address my verses to the king;
my tongue is like the pen of a ready scribe.
Psalm 45:1
