A Devine Appreciation

Caleb comes from a small town, but his family is quite large. He has eleven siblings, him being one of the middle children. He shares that there is never a dull moment, and he loves this about his family. They are a closely knit family, and despite being only 14, he is already an uncle. Family, church, and supportive outlets like Walking Tall are what Caleb is most grateful for. He shares, how fortunate he is to have his dad and a spiritually strong grandpa. He says his family is like a well-oiled machine but admits there is no peace in his small house, because nine people are still living there. Caleb has seen so many families torn apart over small issues and is grateful for the stability he has in his own family.

Caleb's job at a restaurant has been challenging due to the differing lifestyles of his co-workers, which has also challenged his faith. However, coming to Walking Tall has helped him gain a better spiritual understanding of his thought patterns and how to apply them in his daily life. In addition to this, he has been learning about the tools in the woodshop and how to use them. Working alongside Paul in has been a great experience, as he explains things well. Caleb has been creating intriguing items in the woodshop, and he looks forward to doing so every week. Mentor Bill has built a strong bond with Caleb through their involvement at Walking Tall.

Bill used to work with Caleb's father and they often spend their free time on Saturdays dirt bike riding, which Caleb really enjoys.

Caleb has a goal to work for a nearby performance powder coating and technology company in a few years. Three of his brothers already work there. The company is known for having a great work environment, and Mentor Richard, who was a former founder of the same company, is helping to set up a powder coating area at Walking Tall. This area will be used to finish parts around the campus. Caleb
