Spencer's Walk

Hi there. I'm Spencer, a Walking Tall graduate. I joined the program in late 2016 and continued through most of 2021. In 2022, I moved to Arizona to help take care of my Dad, who passed away this September. Though I've been away for a while, the relationships I have made during my time at Walking Tall surpass distance. Walking Tall is just as much my family now as it was back then, and I love them.

I returned to Oregon in March to work on several Christian film projects. Having recently been meditating on the subject of death, I was inspired to make a short film showcasing death from a Christian perspective. I wanted to show a character who, knowing they are about to die, looks death square in the face and seizes the opportunity to glorify God by putting faith in Jesus, who alone can carry us safely to the other side. The film is titled "Life's Great Trust Fall."

Walking Tall has always had my back and shown me support in many different ways. Specifically for this project, I thank them for providing me with the wood needed for the door frame in the video and for introducing me to Jeremiah Kimball (a current Walking Tall mentee), who generously volunteered his time as the main character. Trust in the LORD with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding;
in all your ways submit to him,
and he will make your paths straight.
