 Walking Tall (WT), is positively impacting Mentor Tony's life by providing him with a place where he feels he belongs and can express his passion for nuts and bolts. Whether he is working with young men or fellow mentors, it feels like a perfect fit for him and his skills. His experiences have helped him refine his communication and better understand when he is truly helping someone and making a difference. Each time he arrives at Walking Tall, it feels like a new adventure, and he greatly appreciates being part of a group of guys who share his enthusiasm.

He explains that respect is a fundamental need for men. At WT, this respect is demonstrated through a commitment to taking care our tools, our instruction offered, and for the people speaking. He emphasizes that the members of WT undoubtedly have each other's backs, and create an environment that feels like family; like our coin represents.

Tony notes, "That this is the most valuable form of respect, and that Christ is enough!"

Whoever despises the word brings destruction on himself, but he who reveres the commandment will be rewarded. Proverbs 13:13
