Where Legacies Live On

Last Saturday, Walking Tall had an inspiring opportunity to team up with the Soaring by the Sea Foundation. This is an organization dedicated to keeping legendary warbirds flying. Their mission is not only to honor our aviation history but also to inspire future generations to take an interest in flight. They restore aircraft with fascinating combat history and engage in outstanding educational outreach, including events that spark the passion of young aviation enthusiasts, all while giving glory to God. The open house was absolutely fantastic! Our showcase highlighted Walking Tall" and the treasured belongings shared by a WWII mentor who has passed. It was truly heartwarming to see the young men from WT helping kids navigate the obstacle course. Their military camaraderie and enthusiastic cheering created a fun and supportive atmosphere.

It featured an impressive array of military vehicles and aircraft, including some historic planes from World War II. The exhibit celebrated the rich history of aviation and military service, a P40 blank fire demo, and guests enjoyed performances of 1940s music by talented singers, we also met veterans and three remarkable women in ages 99, 100, and 101 who represented 'Rosie the Riveter'—the iconic symbol of the women who stepped up to work in factories while men went off to war.

On the way home, a young man on the bus found support in accepting Christ into his life, a heartfelt decision that marked a significant turning point for him.

It was truly a heartfelt day of remembrance and inspiration!

Even when I am old and gray, do not forsake me, my God, till I declare your power to the next generation, your mighty acts to all who are to come.

Psalms 71:18

Our Friend Raiser campaign is currently underway, running until December 31st, with a goal of raising $150,000 to support our efforts beyond our regular monthly contributions. This funding plays a crucial role in our annual budget, enabling us to provide nourishing meals, essential supplies for our ten programs, and cover the overhead costs that keep our doors open.

So far, we have received $20,210 towards this goal, and we are incredibly grateful for every contribution. Your generosity helps us continue supporting our community works.

Thank you for standing with us as we work to make a positive impact together!
